

Swedish Medical Center Uses ImageSource ILINX Technologies to Support Innovative Training and Electronic Content Management Solutions

Olympia, Washington, February 2, 2007 – Swedish Medical Center (SMC) partners with ImageSource to implement an enterprise content management system and training solution for the migration to a new Epic Electronic Health Records (EHR) system. Using the ILINX product suite, ImageSource integrates two user-friendly solutions to support the shift to the new system. SMC is one of the largest, most comprehensive, nonprofit health providers in the Northwest.

The first solution provides Swedish care givers with immediate access to critical information in one EHR system for improved patient care. Tightly integrated with the Epic system, the enterprise content management platform scans, stores, retrieves and supplies a central repository for documents created and received at SMC.

Adding additional efficiencies, ImageSource creates a second solution for managing dynamic content surrounding the training of care givers on the EHR system. It provides Swedish with a robust, intuitive platform to develop targeted training manuals for more than 5,500 professional staff in 120 distinct job roles.

“This innovative and fresh approach to training for Epic ensures that each manual is reliably accurate and up to date,” states Nancy L. Richards, CDIA, CRM, Swedish Medical Center, Clinical Information Systems, Document System Architect.

“Our work with Swedish is a great example of our team’s ability to provide benefits beyond what single technological components can offer,” states Terry Sutherland, CEO of ImageSource. “The ILINX product suite contributes the critical elements to deliver significant business value where it’s needed most.”
