

IMAGESOURCE INTRODUCES THE ILINX CONNECT AGENT

OLYMPIA, WA, September 5, 2007 – ImageSource, a leading provider of content management solutions and professional services, today announced the availability of the ILINX Connect Agent, a new software product designed to export images, information and attachments from Cardiff LiquidOffice into Oracle|Stellent Universal Content Management (UCM) software.

“The ILINX product suite integrates the capabilities of various Enterprise Content Management platforms,” said Shadrach White, Chief Technology Officer, ImageSource. “The new ILINX Connect Agent brings together two superior technologies, LiquidOffice and UCM. By enhancing the LiquidOffice release capabilities, organizations can now achieve the maximum benefits of both software products.”

A true tight interface, ILINX Connect Agent directly maps LiquidOffice with fields and metadata values, allowing for documents to be checked in to Oracle|Stellent software in real-time. With minimal set-up, forms and attachments can be added to the same repository, or stored separately. Providing out of the box functionality, this application allows electronic forms to travel end-to-end through the forms processing system, without the need for customization.

“We are excited about this addition to the ILINX product suite. The Connect Agent is one more tool that allows organizations to bridge the gap between disparate systems and improves the functionality of their content management systems,” concludes White.
