

IMAGESOURCE ILINX CONNECTS MICROSOFT OFFICE SHAREPOINT SERVER 2007 WITH ORACLE ENTERPRISE CONTENT MANAGEMENT PRODUCTS

New ILINX connector allows users to securely access Oracle Imaging and Process Management and Oracle Universal Content Management content through Microsoft SharePoint Products and Technologies.

OLYMPIA, Washington — March 3, 2008 — ImageSource, an integrator of content management solutions and professional services, today announced that it will release the ILINX SharePoint Connector for IPM and the ILINX SharePoint Connector for UCM. The ILINX connectors work with Microsoft Office SharePoint Server 2007 to extend capabilities to Oracle Enterprise Content Management customers providing them with a pervasive platform to access all content.

“The ImageSource ILINX products are developed to enhance existing technologies,” said Shadrach White, Chief Technology Officer, ImageSource. “The ILINX SharePoint Connector for IPM/UCM allows customers to leverage the familiar Microsoft Office environment to harness the benefits of their Oracle investments. By bringing these technologies together customers will have a unified, easy-to-use platform for accessing their content enterprise-wide.”

Oracle users will be able to undergo the same user experience and recognizable search screen they are used to with Oracle content management. At the same time ILINX SharePoint Connector for IPM and the ILINX SharePoint Connector for UCM enable single sign-on, mapping credentials and security parameters to their IPM and UCM systems.
