Content enable any application.

ILINX Integrate is the answer when you encounter barriers to utilizing content. Drive business processes with information from older applications or repositories while simultaneously improving content security and system maintenance. Enable process improvement by accessing content through web applications, database-to-database communication, or environments like Citrix.

Enable your critical transactions

ILINX Integrate accesses and distributes data with ease, providing a single point between content sources and eliminating keystrokes related to data entry and search and retrieve. Automatically extract data, convert content types and populate third-party applications.

Facilitate business productivity

Maintain productivity while reducing support and training requirements. The content mapping tool makes it easy to populate data with hotkey, macro, and scripting support. ILINX Integrate runs in the background—letting your users draw on existing expertise in line of business applications.

Share data without complexity

ILINX Integrate supports pushing and pulling data between applications—integrating with any source or target. Reduce IT burden of building complex integrations requiring 3rd party APIs or support.

Technical Highlights

1. Integrate at any source – application-to-application, database-to-database, or host system to application
2. Trigger data transfers with everyday actions using floating toolbar, hotkey, or macros
3. Enable legacy applications with a standard interface
4. Reduce keystrokes, errors, and application switching
5. Point-and-click interface with flexible and extensible mapping or scripting

Accounts Payable

Display all related documents directly in the accounting application with a simple click and access older transaction records without switching views. Connect an ERP system with a line of business solutions.

Licensing

Connect legacy systems and national databases like CJIS to your organization's process for license applications and background checks.

Loan Applications

Bridge customer application processes with your internal line of business systems.
